CONFESSION

Blessed is He who comes in the name of the King Jesus.

Oh Lord, save your people.

As you approached Jerusalem on the donkey’s colt,

King Jesus, you saw the city and wept over it.

Oh Lord, save your people.

With the children we celebrate your coming.

With you, King Jesus we stop and weep.

Oh Lord, save your people.

(silence)

For all that has gone wrong in this world,

For all those who are suffering,

For Joe, Dabney, Heather, Joslyn, and Emily,

For those in our midst who carry silent burdens,

For all those who do not have the basic necessities of life,

For our own stumbling and straying as we follow you,

We cry out to you:

Oh Lord, save your people.

We cast our coats before you.

We will walk the path to the cross with you.

We know that we need redemption:

Oh Lord, save your people.

Gather us, King Jesus, as a hen gathers her chicks under her wings.

Cover us with your feathers.

Under your wings we will find refuge;

Your faithfulness will be our help and protection.
